"Pork Out"

Even though it rained most of Labor Day weekend, the annual Hog Days Festival went on as planned. The festivities started Friday night with the opening of the carnival that lasted until Monday. Saturday, many people were able to view the Hog Day Parade, one of the longest ever. Kewanee High School was well-represented in the parade with Mr. Blucker and the band, and Pom Pon squad and our twirler, Kim Brackett. Sunday, Kewanee High was fortunate to have three Pom Pon groups make the finals during the talent show. The pork pits proved to be the highlight of the weekend. Two kinds of pork chops were sold: the traditional "butterflies" and the new pork burgers. Monday, the last day of the three-day weekend, was spent seeing past graduates before they went to college and relaxing before the beginning of a busy school year.

Performing "I Got No Strings On Me," KHS Pom Pons make the finals during the Hog Days talent show.

The big "game" hunter, Lee Monroe, displays his "trophies."

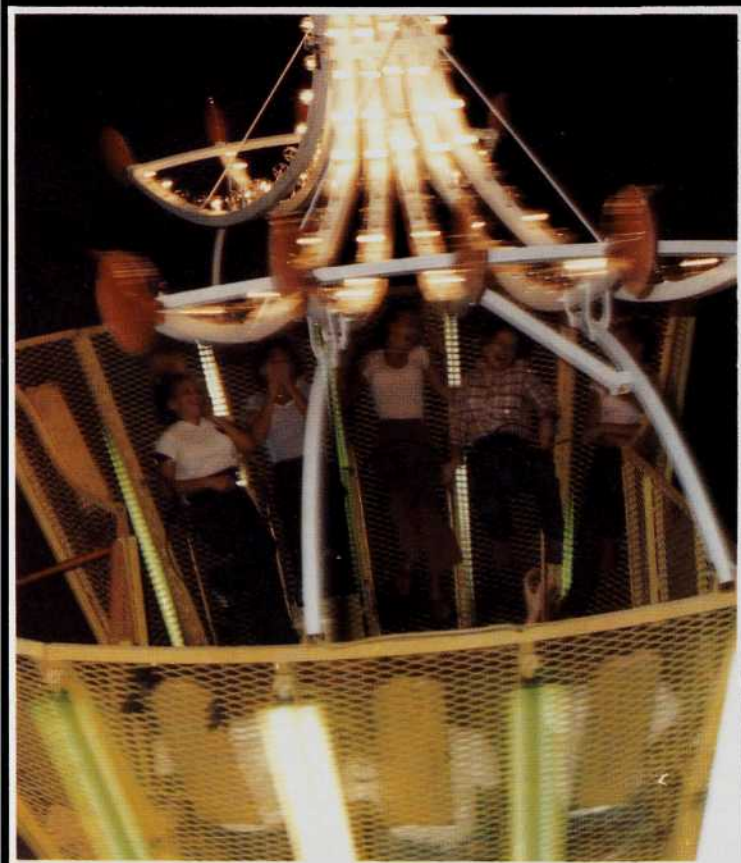

Hog Days gave Leatha Roesner and Pam Coné a last chance to talk to '80 graduates.

Taking a break, Kathy Kaine and Laurie Fredrickson decide which ride they want to go on next.

The "SCAT" proves to be the favorite ride at the carnival.

Homecoming '80

Football

Bowl

Due to a four-day weekend, Homecoming week started a day late, but that didn't keep students from getting involved. Sweepstakes competition began and the classes battled it out for the highest amount of points. Bib Overall Day, Button Day, Mix-n-Match Day and Spirit Day were just a few ways students could show their spirit and earn sweepstakes points. The Homecoming spirit continued to build Thursday night when the traditional bonfire was lit. During the bonfire, attendants were introduced and the coaches gave encouraging speeches. The cheerleaders kept the fans fired up and the band and Pom-Pon girls performed. Following the bonfire, a social hour was held in the gym. Friday, after the rowdy assembly, students hurried out to the parking lot to put the finishing touches on their homeroom floats. Instead of convertibles for the Queen and her court, a queen float was built and provided. The parade was a big success, with Mr. Fulton's homeroom taking first place prize for the float "De-feet the Bulldogs". After the points were tallied, it was clear that the Junior Class had won the Sweepstakes contest. Although the Boilermakers lost the game to the Bulldogs, Boiler fans gathered Saturday night for the dance. Music was performed by the group "Now and Then". The Homecoming dance was a perfect way to end a hectic week.

The Rowdiest Yet

"Bulldogs bite the dust!" was the chant heard during the 1980 Homecoming Assembly. As the assembly started, so did skit competition. This year Seniors took first place with their skit "A Day in the Faculty Lounge", which included Mr. Blucker's "swing choir" doing their rendition of "Another One Bites the Dust". In second place were the freshmen; third, juniors; and fourth, sophomores. The title of Honorary Boilermaker was shared this year by Mr. Martin Hepner and Mrs. Ruth Melchin. Mr. Hepner has served as a member of the School Board and Mrs. Melchin has served many years as an administrative secretary. Throughout the assembly were many cheers by the Cross Country, Riveter, and Varsity Cheerleaders and performances by the KHS Pom Pons and our twirler Kim Brackett. Coach Dickel appeared to give a few words of encouragement. As the assembly came to an end, it was time for the attendants to take their place on the stage and for the 1980 Homecoming Queen to be crowned. As the auditorium quieted, Tami Shinkevich was announced the 1980 KHS Homecoming Queen.

Congratulating Mr. Hepner, Mr. Buchanan awards the "Honorary Boilermaker."

The

Main

Event

The 1980 Homecoming game started out in victory as the Riveters knocked the Streator frosh-soph 22-13 in the preliminary contest. Following the win, the winning parade floats circled the stadium. The introduction of the Queen and her Court by Julie DeConinck, the Student Council President, came next. The band, cheerleaders, twirler and pom pon girls dominated the rest of the Homecoming pre-game activities. The Boiler fans stood to greet the Boilers as they came onto the field. The fans, however, quickly quieted as the Bulldogs chewed their way to a 19-0 half-time score. When the second half opened, the Boilers found themselves down 33-0. Boilers then came back with a few last minute touchdowns, but as the scoreboard clock ticked seconds, the Streator Bulldogs had put the final bite on the Kewanee Boilermaker Homecoming celebration with a 33-14 defeat.

May the Best Woman Win

The election of a Student Council President is an important decision for high school students. Besides leading pep rallies and introducing various professional assemblies, the Student Council President is the spokesperson for the student body. Although this office is usually filled by a male, the decision had to be made between two females: Julie DeConinck and Jackie Gustafson were this year's hopeful candidates. Each of these girls campaigned enthusiastically. After hearing final campaign speeches, students were asked to vote for one of the candidates. The votes were tallied and Julie DeConinck became the 1980-81 Kewanee High School Student Council President with Jackie Gustafson serving as second-in-command.

During SCP elections, students show their enthusiasm by decorating halls with various posters.

Who's Elizabeth?

"Who's Elizabeth?" was the question everyone had in mind as the Junior Class of 1980-81, under the direction of Mrs. Barto, presented their version of "Cheaper by the Dozen". Set in the 1920's, the play centered around the humorous events in the Gilbreth household. Each act opened with two of the Gilbreth children sharing childhood memories. From "democratic" family discussions and music lessons with Mrs. Pettigrew to pantyhose and phone calls from the boys, the Gilbreth children struggled to be like the other kids in school despite their father's strict rules. The play featured many memorable moments, but the answer to everyone's question, "Who's Elizabeth?" was answered in the middle of the play as a large sheepdog entered on the stage. The Junior Class worked very hard to make this year's class play a great success.

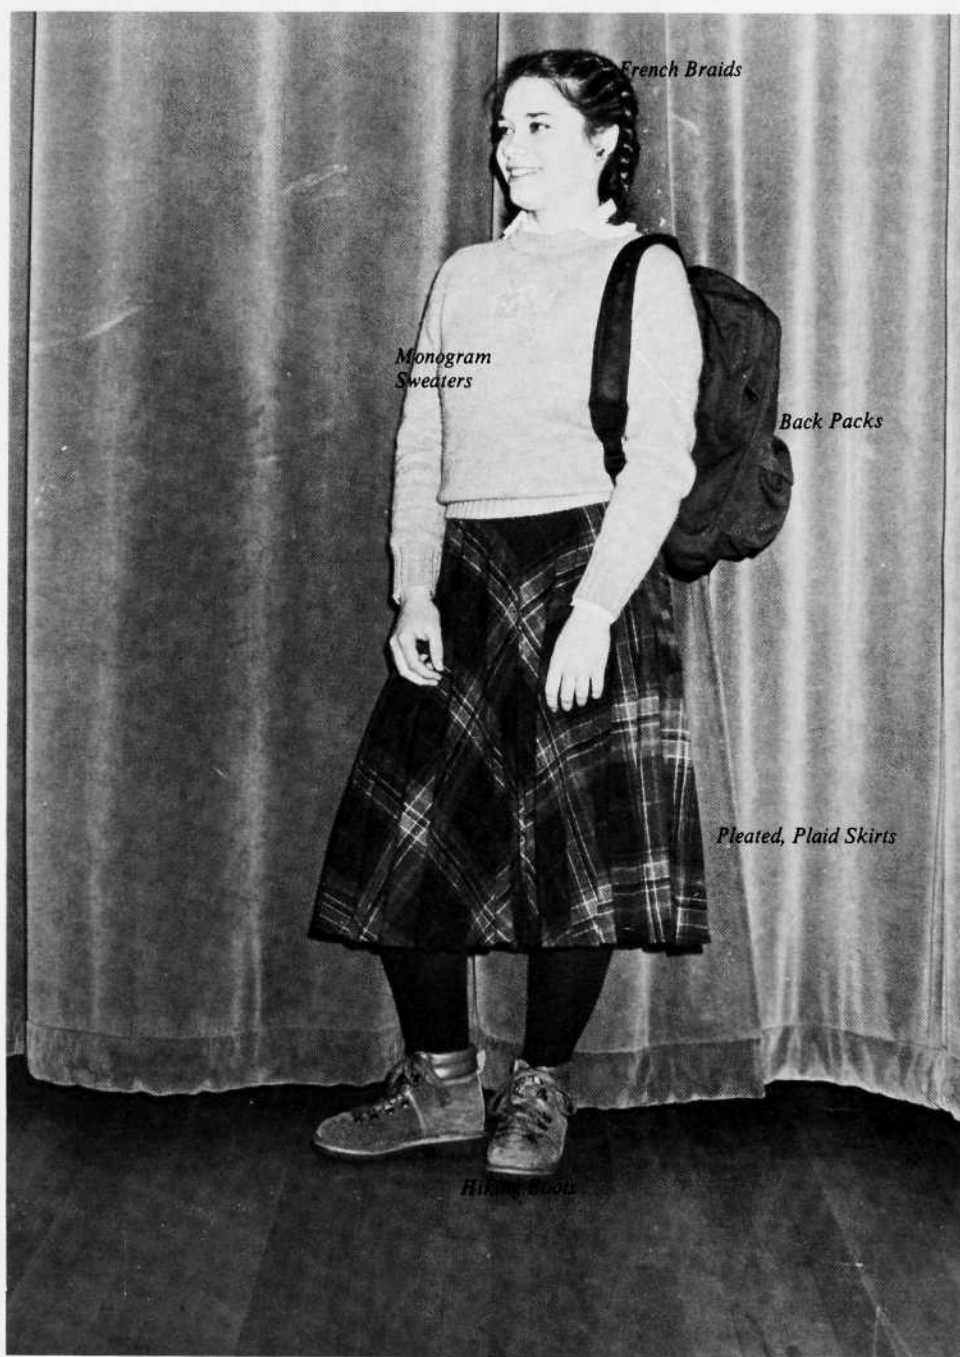

The Gilbreth Family (alias the Jr. Cast) discusses the family situation.

Just for Fun

Throughout the school year students were able to enjoy and take part in many assemblies. Through coaches' speeches, pom pon routines and cheers led by the Varsity, Riveter and Cross-Country/Wrestling cheerleaders, students were able to participate by showing their spirit in hopes of winning the coveted "spirit stick." Besides pep rallies, students were entertained by a variety of professional performers which ranged from pantomime skits to puppet shows. Students were also able to view slides from other countries and learn about other customs and cultures during AFS and AA assemblies. Although there were some assemblies that seemed too long or too short, for the most part, they were enjoyable and educational.

Puppeteer Connie High demonstrates how a puppet works to the student body.

Social Hour

Lights, music, and live entertainment characterized many social hours at K. H. S. during the school year. Social hours enabled students to meet with friends, unwind from football and basketball games and just have fun. Student Council sponsored many of the social hours with bands and discos. K.H.S. was also fortunate to have Rick McGuire of KIIK radio to perform for one of these social hours. Even though chaperones were sometimes hard to get, no one could refuse a social hour.

During a social hour, Chris Sturtevant and Richard Wood bump to the disco sound of KIIK's Rick McGuire.

A Valentine's Day Cruise

Attention passengers! The 1981 Mid-Winter Love Boat cruise is now boarding at Pier 1 Kewanee! The "cruise director", alias Key Club, created a cruise ship setting for this year's Mid-Winter Dance. Shuffleboard, golf and other cruise ship activities lined the gymnasium floor as couples danced to the music of the Jay Beez Band. Helpers, consisting of eighth grade girls and Key Club members, dressed in uniform complete with sailor hats served the passengers refreshments around the fountain. Mr. Bud Neff was on hand to take pictures of the event, providing "passengers" with a lasting memory of the Mid-Winter Valentine Day Cruise.

Wonderful World of Disney

A stroll through an enchanted castle, a trip around the floor in a chauffeur driven golf cart and games in the house of the three little pigs were all a part of the 1980 prom theme, the Wonderful World of Disney. The music for the evening was performed by the Jay Beez Band and a slide show of the "Sights and Sounds of Disney" was shown during the dance. During these activities underclassmen dressed as Disney characters and served as hosts and hostesses for the evening. The class of 1981 did a good job organizing the prom to make it a night upperclassmen would always remember.

Mid-Year Relief

Unlike other years students had to wait a little longer than usual for mini-courses this year. Instead of being scheduled between semesters as in past years, mini-courses were held in February. The change of date didn't matter to the students, as many enjoyed the change of pace mini-courses offered. Rollerskating and volleyball were the most popular of the courses offered. Other courses included all types of indoor sports, card games and hobbies. Although mini-courses lasted only a week, they provided a much needed break for the students as well as the teachers.

Sports

A Year of New Records

The 1980 track season was a season on the road. The Kewanee Boys' and Girls' track teams had only one home meet, the annual H. F. Brockman Relays. Reigning over the meet were King Gerald Harland and Queen Leatha Roesner. During the relays, Kewanee placed 3rd overall, but still made a good showing. This year's track teams were hard-working individuals with some locked-up talents waiting for the key. Trying to pick the lock were coaches Mr. Kirkham, Mr. Dickel, and Mr. Tocha. An outstanding member of the boy's team was Gerald Harland, who qualified for the state finals in the high jump with a jump of 6'5" at district. During the season, Harland also participated in hurdles and relays. Although track membership was low, the individuals who participated did a fine job.

Pride Is the Key

Cross-country is not just a sport, it is a form of self-inflicted torture designed to separate glory-seekers from men and women. It's not easy for a cross-country runner to run as well as he can when the only fans cheering him on will be the team manager and a handful of sympathetic parents. Running the three-mile course at Baker Park, 'made longer by trees, valleys and countless hills took will and determination on the part of the runner. The 1980 Boys' and Girls's Cross-Country teams, coached by Mr. Vincent, were the best Kewanee has had in the last few years. Led by many outstanding seniors, the teams finished big in many large meets, including district. Two seniors, Tim Brown and Kevin Williams, represented Kewanee in sectionals. Many people wonder what keeps a runner running. Any cross-country member can answer with one word. Pride keeps a runner running. Pride based on knowing he put out as much as he could. If a runner has this feeling of pride, he has won his greatest reward ever.

Three-year team member Leatha Roesner looks over the course before running in a girls' cross-country meet.

Par for the Course

The 1980 Golf teams linked up an impressive record this year. Winning 22 and only losing 10, these athletes posted the best golf record for Kewanee in recent years. Troy Rogula, Bill Pierce, Mark Michalic and Hal Mowbray contributed highly to Coach Lazar's impressive linkster's record. Braving many cold practices at Baker Park Golf Course this fall paid off as the fairly young team won many victories. Because this year's team consisted mostly of underclassmen, most of the members will return to the greens to represent Kewanee next year.

Team leaders, Mark Michalic and Troy Rogula, warm up before one of their matches. The golf team had a very productive year.

Some Racquet!

The 1980 Girls' Tennis Team was small in number but still had a great deal of talent among its ranks. With three returning seniors, the girls posted a five-win, five-loss season record. Under the direction of Coach Hoffstetter, the girls went on to take eighth overall in conference doubles and also eighth overall in the singles division. Practice was not always easy. Normally, tennis is a summer weather sport, but this year the weather changed without notice. The courts were often slick with rain or the temperatures chilly, which made practice difficult, but the girls did well despite these disadvantages.

Frosh Finish with Flair

The 1980 Kewanee High School Freshman Football Team showed the best record of all the Kewanee football teams. Posting six wins and only two losses, the freshmen displayed a flair for football. Coach Jim Peck and thirty K.H.S. newcomers started their successful bid in early September. As the season progressed, some of the freshmen became prominent figures on the Riveter team. The Steamers, sometimes having to play up to five games in as few as eight days, were able to upset many foes and also remain successful in the win column. The freshmen on this year's team certainly proved their ability to represent their school.

The sophomores started their season with high hopes after an early win, but their hopes were short-lived as the season progressed. Posting a three-win, six-loss record, the Riveters faced some stiff competition this season. Coaches Tocha and Kirkham along with the hard-working Riveters hit the highlight of their season after winning the Homecoming preliminary game against the undefeated Streator sophomores. Football takes a great deal of determination and hard work on the athletes' part and the sophomore team surely showed this dedication.

Varsity Breaks Losing Streak

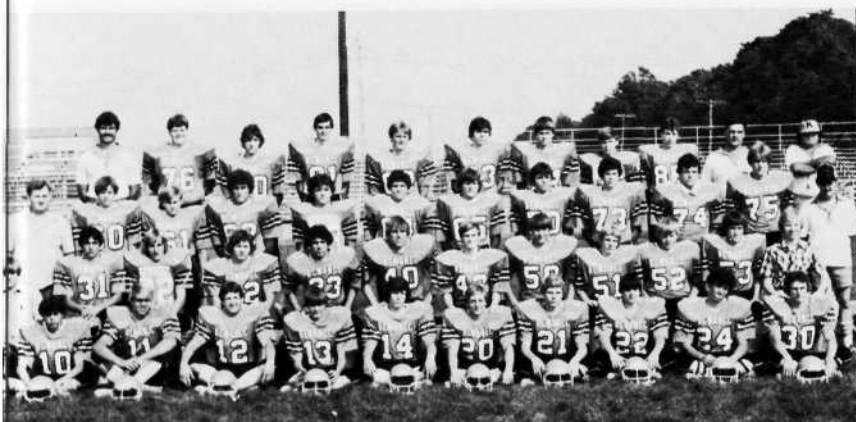

The 1980 Kewanee Varsity Football Team had another disappointing season with only one win and eight losses. Under the direction of Coaches Dickel, Davis, Christakos and Parish, the junior/senior team gave many hours of spare time to practice. Practice started this summer and it wasn't uncommon to see these athletes out playing in the rain as well as the sun. The highlight of the season was snapping a sixteen-game varsity losing streak by defeating Rock Falls 8-0. Although the Boilers lost consistently after that game, the team continued to practice and play their best.

Bump, Set, SPIKE!

Coach Jenkins, assisted by Coach Allard, led the 1980 Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team on to a winning season with a record of 12 wins and 7 losses. Many of the varsity players returned from last year to participate this season. Many long hours were spent practicing in the gym. The practice paid off and as the season progressed, hopes were high for post season play. These hopes were soon shattered when the girls lost the championship game at district. Although they had a slow start, the Frosh-Soph team pulled off a 7-7 season by winning 5 of their last 6 games. These girls improved greatly and will be new hopefuls for next year's varsity team. Both teams did a good job at representing K.H.S.

Steamers Show Their Stuff

The Freshman "Steamers" proved their ability to play basketball with a season record of 14 wins and 4 losses. Wearing the orange and black for the first time, the freshmen spent many hours of early morning practice developing skills and new plays while learning how to play well as a team. Under the coaching direction of Mr. Christakos, the "new guys" proved that they could handle themselves on the basketball court.

Domination

Hustle, enthusiasm and teamwork were what made the 1980-81 Riveter basketball team a success. Posting a 19-2 record, the Riveter team was coached by Mr. Peck. As in other sports success depends upon practice and the Riveters put in their share of practice through constant drills and plays. These sophomores with a few outstanding freshmen definitely showed their spirit and enthusiasm while playing some serious basketball this year.

Boiler Country

"They lost all their good players," "They won't do well at all," and "It's going to be a disappointing season" were comments frequently heard about the 1980-81 Varsity Boys' Basketball team. True, it was hard to follow in the footsteps of the previous year's record of 27-2, but the Boilers had far from a disappointing season. Led by Mr. Kirkham, the Boilers posted a 15-9 season record. Although last year's team was primarily made up of seniors, the Boilers definitely did not "lose all their good players." The team worked hard at practice and on the floor while proudly wearing the orange and black.

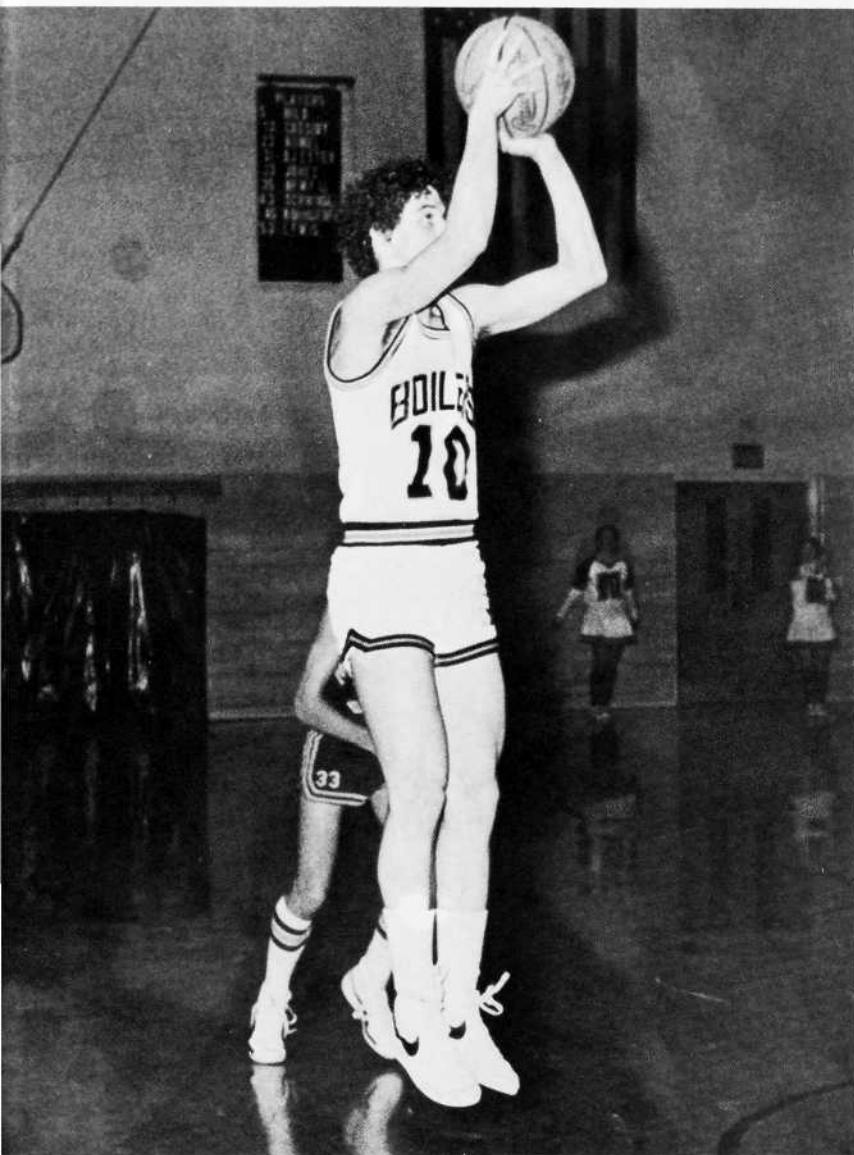

During a time out, coach Kirkham explains the next plan of strategy.

Impressive Showing

After a disappointing Softball season, the 1980-81 Cougar Basketball team got off to a very impressive start by winning their first four of the season. They were handed their first loss of the season by Gateway Princeton, a team they had previously beaten, while being filmed for a sports feature on the Channel 4 news. The Cougars finished up the season with a winning record of 7-6 under coach Warren and also represented K.H.S. well in the W.I.S.C.H. tournament in Princeton, Illinois. In the spring participants were sent to the Special Olympics for the Softball Throw, 50, 75, and 100 yard dashes; and several other events. All in all the Cougar sports program was one that K.H.S. could be proud of.

Striking the Way

Bowling, a fairly new sport at KHS, started its third season this year. Coached by Mr. Parish, the bowlers practiced four nights a week at Dura Bowl bowling alley in order to compete with five other teams in this district at a varsity and a frosh/soph level. The teams that won their district titles then competed for the state title at the end of the season. The Keglers also competed throughout the season for the title of best bowler in the state. Although bowling was a relatively new sport, the KHS bowling team pulled off a 7-5-1 season record.

“MTXE”

Not only did the 1980-81 Frosh/Soph Girls' Basketball team have to contend with their opponents but they also had to contend with empty bleachers. Regardless of the lack of spectator participation, the girls did well this year. Through long hours of drills and plays before school, the girls worked hard to improve their basketball skills and physical endurance. Under the coaching direction of Miss Allard, the girls posted a 8/9 season record. Although the fan attendance was low, the girls played good ball and represented KHS well.

Like the Boys' Basketball team, the Varsity Boiler girls lost many of their players to graduation last May, but the girls still had a good season. "TW3," "Be Tenacious," and "MTXE" helped the girls practice hard and play well together as a team. Under the coaching direction of Mr. Tocha, the girls ended the season with a 14/8 win-loss record.

Matmen Take It Down

It wasn't unusual to see many members of the wrestling team running from one end of the school to the other, working away at the weight machines and starving to death to lose the last few pounds to make their weight class. Heading the Grapplers to a 4-13 season record were Mr. Van Nieuwenhuyse and Mr. Dickel. Unlike many other sports offered through the school, wrestling was a one to one competition which required a great deal of determination and practice on the part of the athlete. Throughout the season the wrestling team worked hard to improve their records and abilities while representing KHS well.

Organizations

Working Things Out

Through elected representatives from homerooms and organizations, the student body was able to take an active role in the student government at K.H.S. The Student Council brought up many school-related problems and proposals and tried to resolve some of these problems. Student Council sponsored Homecoming Week which took a great deal of planning and preparation. They also sponsored a Jump-Rope-a-thon for the Heart Association. In order to overcome an outstanding debt, the Student Council featured many social hours. Through discussion and action, Student Council accomplished many things for the betterment of K.H.S.

And the Beat Goes on

A lot of marching and practicing helped the K.H.S. Marching Boiler-makers do a fine job of entertaining the public and school throughout the year. The band, under the direction of Mr. Blucker, performed at halftime during the football and basketball seasons. Besides performing at school, the band went to contest and placed well. The Jazz Band performed mostly for the general public and at many activities. Through the combined efforts of Mr. Blucker and the members of Concert Band and Jazz Band, these people did a fine job of representing K.H.S.

Don't Let the Music Stop

Through long hours of warm-ups, sight reading and rehearsals, the K.H.S. mixed choir performed for many concerts throughout the year.

After the fall concert, preparation began for the Christmas concert, which featured the cantata "Born a King". Besides performing for the general public, selections from these Christmas songs were sung for the student body and for elementary students in the community schools. Besides the concerts, nearly all the choir members participated in solo/ensemble contest and organizational contest, where the school placed very well overall.

Choir students who were interested in trying out for swing choir were required to sing and dance for a try-out. These people who qualified for swing choir performed for many organizations throughout Kewanee.

In addition to choir, advanced music study was offered to senior music students. This class gave students who were interested in a future in music an introduction to music study.

Undying Devotion

After training sessions at summer camp, the 1980-81 cheerleading squads led one of the most spirited years ever. The spirit leaders consisted of three groups: the Varsity, Riveters, and Cross-Country/Wrestling cheerleaders. The Varsity squad was a six-senior, one-junior team. They were a well-experienced squad with a great deal of spunk. The Varsity teams truly appreciated all of their hard work. The Riveter team had seven sophomores. This squad put some of their newly learned cheers to work at many of the preliminary games. The Cross-Country/Wrestling cheerleaders consisted mainly of sophomores and juniors. Perhaps these girls had the hardest job of getting students rowdy at assemblies, but they still did a great job. All in all, this year's cheerleading squads did a good job at getting the crowd behind the team.

Behind the Smiles

Practice, determination and a lot of hard work made the 1980-81 pom pon squad a success at building spirit at K.H.S. Many long hours were spent learning new dance routines and skits for half-time programs during the football and basketball seasons. Pom pon practice started this summer with many workshops that helped the girls with new routines and dance steps. The girls did a good job at camp by finishing second overall. K.H.S. was also proud to have Kim Brackett as twirler this year. Miss Brackett performed during many assemblies to help the pom pon girls promote school spirit.

The Few . . . The Proud . . .

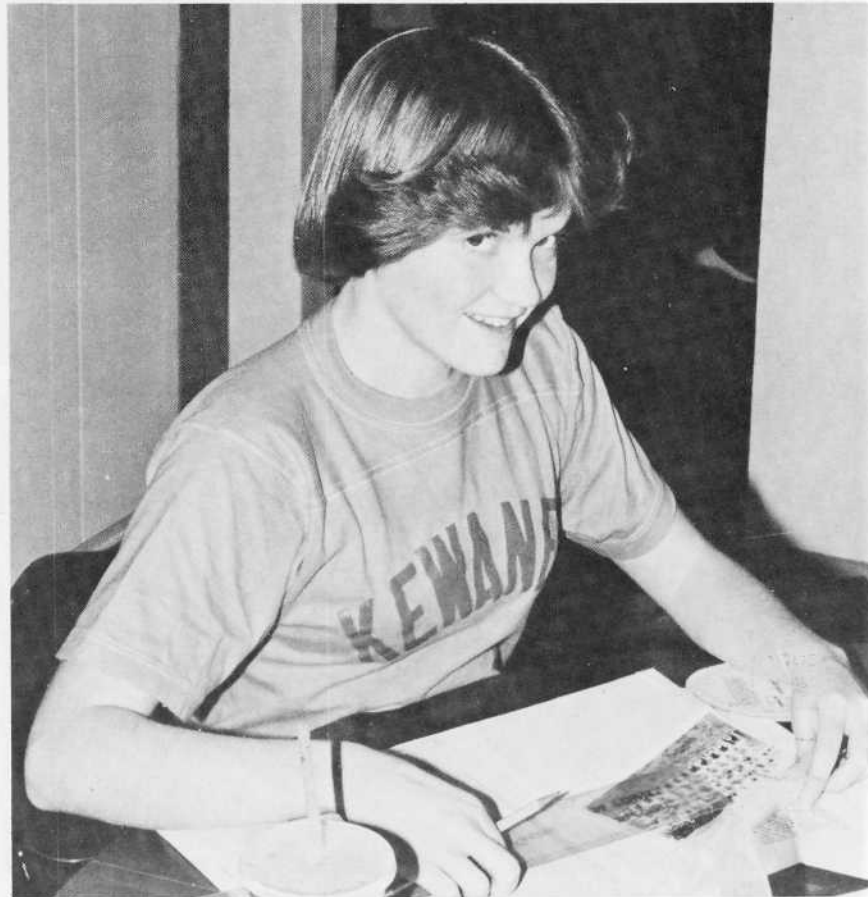

A little fun, a little laughter, a little pushing and a lot of effort was what made the production of the 1980-81 Kewanite possible. Unlike other clubs, Kewanite began last summer when a handful of people attended workshops to learn about "to-to no-no's" and ideas and the production began. Cameras flashed, capturing the year at KHS while layout and copy people worked to put it all down on paper. Through the work of the business staff, Kewanite gained money to make one of the best yearbooks possible. The Kewanite staff had their share of problems but also had a great deal of fun putting together this year's book. We truly were "the few, the proud, the Kewanite staff!"

Walk Together, Talk Together

American Field Service is a program designed to bring people from all over the world together. This year K.H.S. hosted Lorraine DeLeon, a student from Panama, during the school year. Mrs. May, the club advisor, and AFS members held their annual pizza sale and worked concession stands. By "walking together and talking together", AFS members as well as students and faculty were able to learn more about the customs of other cultures in our world.

After interviews and orientations, two people from KHS were finally chosen to participate in the Americans Abroad program this summer. Paul Willis and Christen Helmkamp spent ten weeks in Greece and Israel respectively. Both Paul and Chris learned of the language and customs of the country they lived in and shared their experiences with the student body and other organizations in the town through slide presentations. By participating in this program, Paul and Chris have learned about other people and their way-of-life and hold very special memories of their experiences this summer.

“Dare to Influence”

Under the direction of Mr. Buchanan, Key Club proved to be a vital part in the school and community. Raising money by selling calendars with girls from each class to represent a different month and sponsoring the Mid-Winter Dance, Key Club was able to perform service projects for many. All in all, Key Club was truly one of the finest organizations K.H.S. had to offer that provided a great service to all.

Working for Others

Health occupations, or HO for short, was a division of the work program that included nurses aides at the hospital and nursing home, dietary aides, physical therapy aides and special ed aides. Mrs. Sullens, the school nurse, taught this individual study course. The students learned a variety of topics from patient care to bone structure. Those students who were interested in pursuing careers in health-related areas found that the knowledge and experience gained through the HO program helped them have a better understanding of hospitals and patients in general.

Towards New Horizons

The Future Homemakers of America had another busy but successful year as the club held many of its annual activities. FHA-HERO held a Spaghetti Supper and sold many items to pay for service projects they did throughout the year. Some of these projects include: a Christmas Party for children and an Easter Egg Hunt. Besides their service projects and fund-raising activities, many members were able to attend several rallies this year. The purpose of these rallies was for the girls to meet girls from other chapters and attend seminars that included topics from Child Care to Drug Abuse. Under the direction of Mrs. Shafer, the club advisor, FHA-HERO gained a great deal of experience by dealing with the school and community.

Farmers Take Action

The Future Farmers of America in the K.H.S. Chapter worked hard during the school year as they provided services to the community as well as the school. Besides the annual Barnyard Zoo during Hog Days, FFA members sponsored the Homecoming Bonfire and sold oranges and grapefruits during the holiday season. Aside from service projects, members of this organization participated in many contests which include: Parliamentary Procedure, Public Speaking, and Soils and Crop judging. This year FFA has undertaken several projects. A new shed for the FFA beef enterprise was one of these several projects. All in all, FFA had a very productive year.

Speech Says It All

Speech Club was very successful this year. Students were able to enter into any of the categories that include: Radio Speaking, Dramatic Duet, Dramatic Interpretation, Humorous Duet, Humorous Interpretation, Extemporaneous Speaking, Original Oration, Dec. and Original Comedy. Many of these divisions required hours of preparation and practice. Students involved in speech participated in many contests and placed well.

Affirmative- Negative

"As for the second contention," "we can clearly see" and "to sum it up" are phrases commonly heard during Debate. After gathering and preparing evidence, a team competes against other school teams throughout the year. Debate takes a great deal of time and patience on the part of the student who is involved and is well worth the time spent.

Close-Up Gets Up Close

"Close-Up," a national program, was designed to give members a chance to view the nation's capital close-up. This year several members were able to take advantage of this opportunity. Under the direction of Mrs. May, the club's new advisor, members sold candy bars to help pay the expenses involved with the trip. Other money-making projects included working concession stands and selling fancy candy. Members who were able to go attended many seminars and viewed many of the capital's buildings. Aside from attending these seminars, members were able to do some sight-seeing as well as participate in many activities planned by the program. Members who went to Washington, D.C. were able to testify that the trip was a very memorable experience.

Helping Hands

Grading papers, taking attendance, and making dittos were just a few jobs teacher's aides did this year. FTA, Future Teachers of America, was an organization designed to give these aides the opportunity to experience what teaching is all about. The teachers greatly appreciated the help from the students and the students gained valuable experience that will help them for a future in teaching.

A Change in Name

Even though it is officially known as "The Rembrandt Society", everyone still referred to it as Art League. Under the direction of Mrs. Ublauer, the Art League painted banners, backdrops for dances and play props. They also printed posters and programs for class plays. As a service to the community, Art League painted Halloween and Christmas scenes on many of the windows in the business district. Even though Art League changed its name, it still donated a great deal of time and talent to the school and the community.

Deep in concentration, Dave Karau works to finish his window.

Leaders in Sports

In order to belong to Lettermen's Club, the prospective member must have earned a varsity letter in any sport offered at K.H.S. During the year, the Lettermen's Club sponsored some activities. One of these was the Faculty-Lettermen Basketball game. Members of the Lettermen's Club also did a great job of promoting school spirit throughout the year.

FLASH!

Under the supervision of Mr. Malcom, members of the Kamera Klub were able to develop an interesting hobby. During the school year members learned how to take pictures and how to develop them. Putting this knowledge to use, the Kamera Klub members took pictures of couples at the Homecoming dance. Members of Kamera Klub were able to use the club's cameras and the school dark-room to continue their knowledge of picture-taking and developing. Through Kamera Klub students were able to gain knowledge while enjoying a hobby.

Science Made Fun

Meetings, fund-raisers and trips highlighted the 1980-81 Bi-Phy-Chem Club this year. Under the direction of Mr. Malcolm and Mr. Arnold, students were able to learn more about science and how it affected their everyday lives. During the year, club members went on many field trips to various museums. Club members enjoyed themselves and discovered that science could be fun as well as interesting.

From Fiction to Fines

The main function of the Student Librarians Club is to keep the library neat. "Keeping the library neat" is a lot harder than it sounds. Besides putting books and magazines away, student librarians cataloged newspapers and magazines, checked-out material, did circulation, helped Mrs. Heise with the mail, covered books and wrote overdues. Aside from the work in the library, members held bake sales to help pay for a spring trip to Circa '21 dinner-playhouse. Overall the student librarians did a good job of keeping the library neat and orderly.

National Leaders

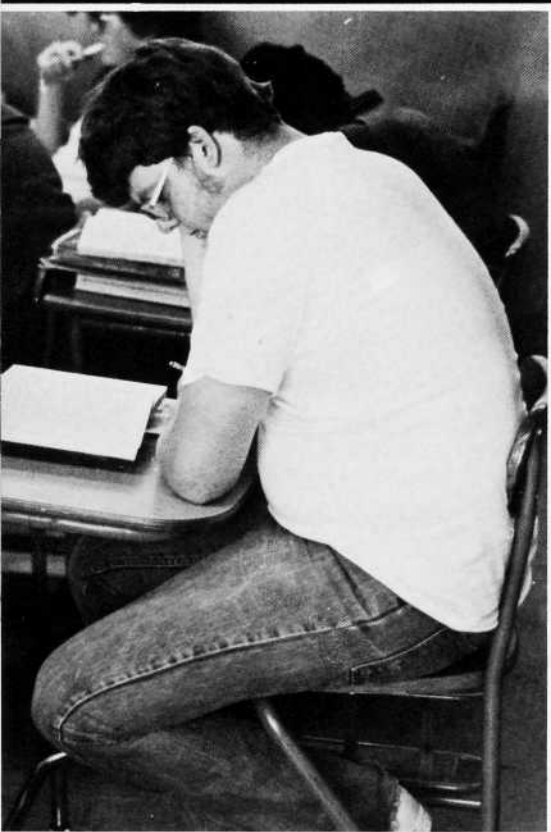

The National Honor Society was organized to commend high school students on their achievement. Students are selected on the basis of grade point average, leadership and citizenship. Many new members inducted into the society are juniors with high grade point averages and sophomores with a 4.0 grade point average. Each spring, a banquet is held in honor of these students.

Academics

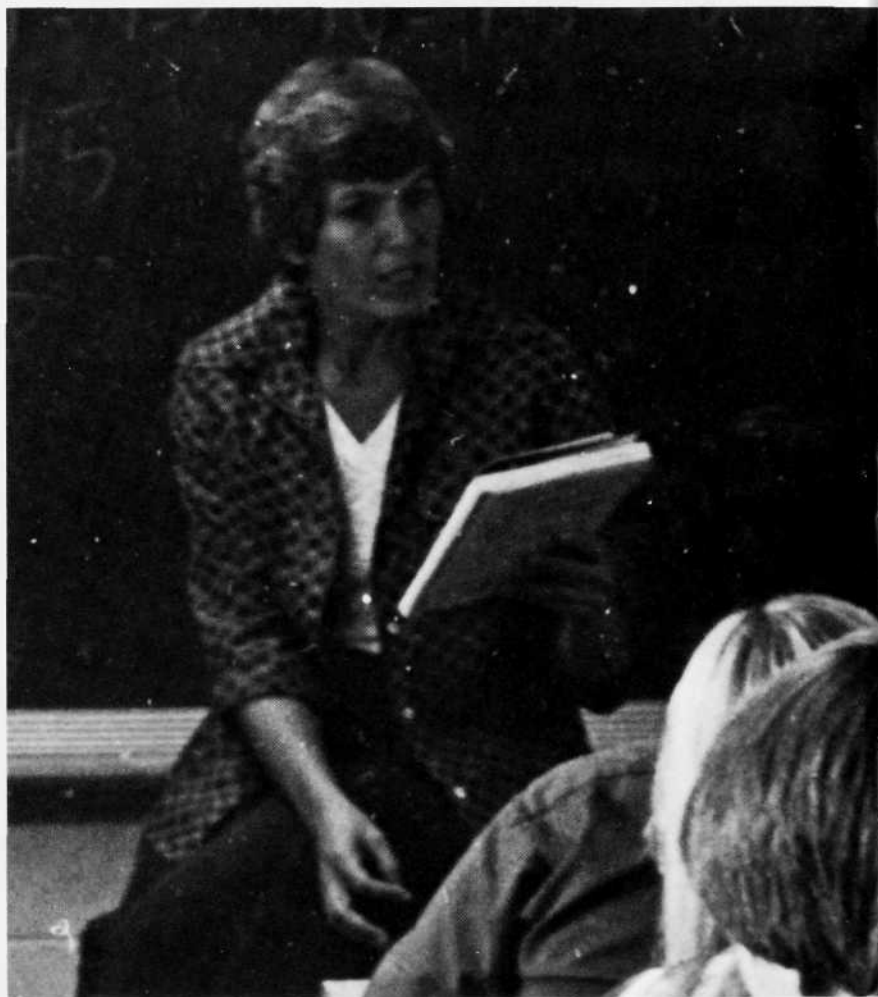

Experimental Period a Success

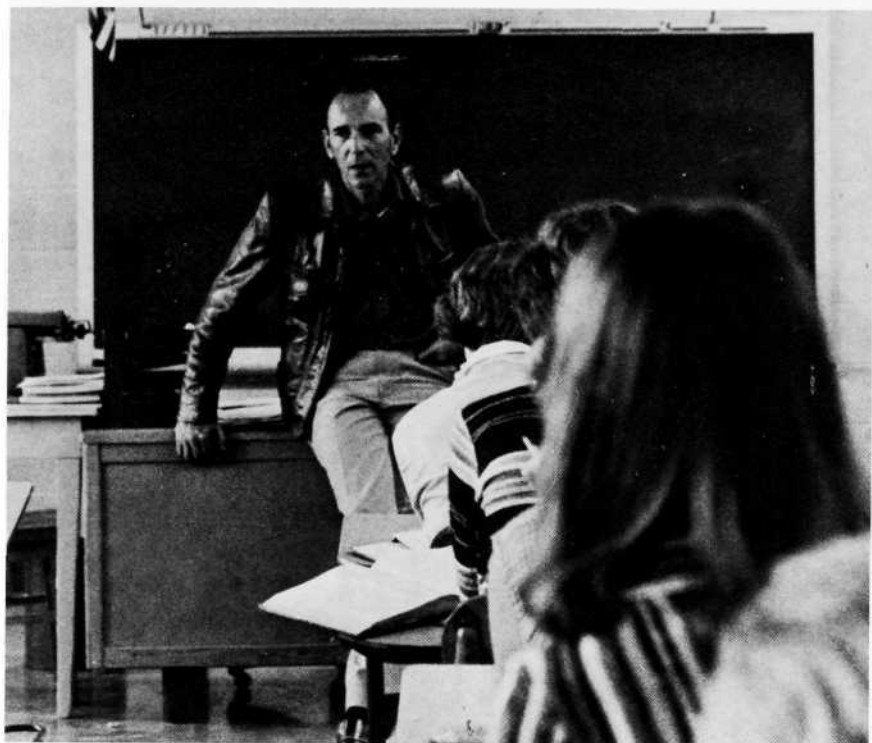

Having a basic knowledge of the English language is a necessity in our society. Therefore, every school must offer English classes in its curriculum. At KHS students were required to take five semesters of English grammar and literature and one semester of speech. Most college-bound students took English IV, which is a class designed to prepare students for a freshman rhetoric course. In addition to the required English courses, World and Contemporary Literature were offered.

This year was the end of an experimental period for the English department. The class of 1981 was the first class to complete a new three year grammar program in Kewanee High School. Through this program students were able to achieve high grades on the Grammar Mastery Test. With the wide variety of English courses available at Kewanee High School, students were able to greatly improve their English skills.

Freshmen English students learn the importance of grammar mastery.

Reviewing the basic rules of English grammar, Mrs. Scott explains the Grammar Mastery Test.

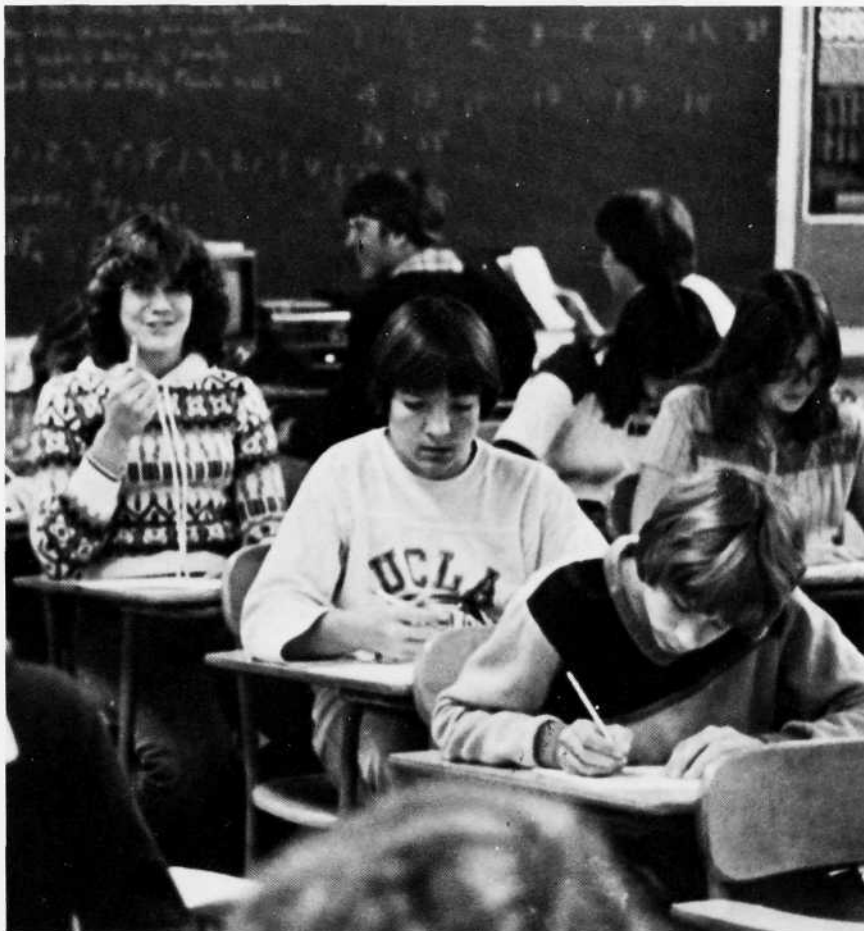

Lecturing to his Junior English class, Mr. Williams stresses the importance of correct grammar usage.

Overcoming her shyness, Lesa Hayden gives the "dreaded" collage speech.

Ours is not to reason why; invert and multiply, do unto one side as you would do unto the other, and thou shalt not divide by zero were just a few "commandments" math students learned this year. These math rules helped them in solving equations, story problems and proofs in many math classes. In addition to Applied Math, Pre-Algebra, Algebra I and II, Geometry and Introductory Analysis, a new course was offered. Computer Programming, a one semester course, was offered to students who had completed Algebra II. This independent study class gave students an opportunity to become acquainted with computers. Computer Programming along with the other math courses gave students a basic background of mathematics.

Algebra I students work on their assignments at the end of class.

Concentrating deeply, Kelleen Schiltz completes an Algebra I test.

Computer Programming students, Doug Currier and Chris Girkin, take advantage of this new opportunity.

Volunteering to work a problem on the board, Tim White raises his hand.

Micro-organisms to Moonrocks

Other than the usual experimenting, observing and studying, students were able to see a "first" in the science department. Moon rocks were loaned to the science department from NASA. These samples contained different soils and rocks from various lunar locations. The samples were on display for a week. Grade school students as well as high school students could observe them.

Besides biology, chemistry, physics and physiology, a new course was offered at KHS. Independent Chemistry study was a one semester course designed to give students a refresher course in the basic principles of chemistry that would be helpful to students entering science related training. These courses gave students a well rounded science background that will be useful in the future.

Current Events

Inflation, the Iranian crisis and draft registration were a few topics that dominated many classroom discussions in the Social Studies department. Besides the required U.S. History and Government classes, World History, Sociology and Economics were offered. These classes helped students understand certain aspects of human behavior and money management.

The year 1980 was also an election year. Many students exercised their responsibility by voting for a first time. Because this year was an election year, a mock election, under the supervision of Mr. Lock, was held. Governor Reagan received 139 votes and the incumbent, Jimmy Carter, received 125 votes. Independent candidate John Anderson won 44 votes and Ed Clark, the Libertarian candidate received 22 votes. In the senatorial race, Alan Dixon received 126 votes over Dave O'Neal's 76 votes. The national results were comparable to Kewanee's results. Alan Dixon was voted into the Senate and Ronald Reagan won the presidential race. Besides voting on government offices, Illinois students were also able to vote on a state animal. The winner at Kewanee High was the white-tailed deer with 133 votes.

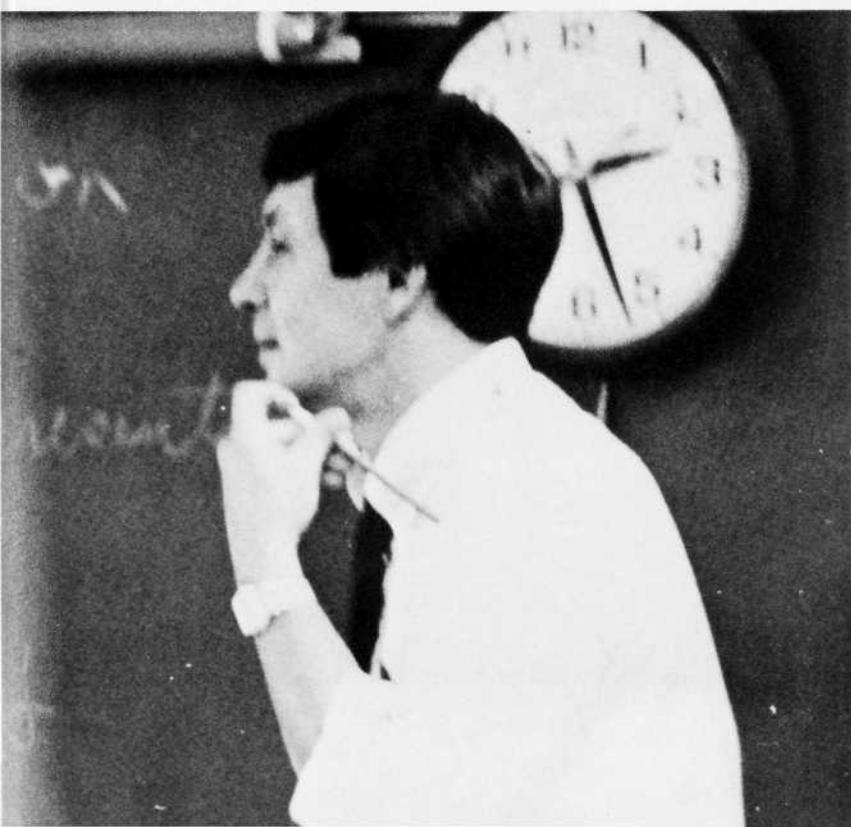

Government students serve as election judges during the mock elections.

During a History review day, Mrs. Quagliano answers a question on the Civil War.

Mr. McKee gives a pop quiz and waits for his students to write down their answers.

Attempt To Make The World Smaller

Foreign language classes gave students the opportunity to learn a new language and culture. French, Spanish, Latin and German were offered this year at Kewanee High School. Besides the daily conjugation, recitation and dictation, students took part in "culture days", where they were able to sample food of other lands or watch films about certain characteristics of foreign countries.

A welcome addition to the language department this year was Mrs. Bausman, who taught first through fourth year Spanish. Although foreign languages take a great deal of study and effort, these classes were well worth the time put into them.

The language lab enables students to brush up on pronunciation.

Using flashcards, Mrs. May quizzes her German students.

Learning by Doing

Vocational Education courses proved very valuable to many students. From welding, woods, and animal science to Home Economics, Clothing Management and Child Care, students were able to get experience needed for future occupations. Neponset, Annawan, and Wethersfield students were also able to take advantage of the many courses available. All in all, Vocational Education classes provided students with the opportunity to get the experience needed to be successful in future vocational-related occupations.

Using a diagram, Mr. Wohrley explains steps in pouring concrete.

During a class lecture, Mr. Pann answers a question on poultry production.

Applying techniques learned in class, Mike Zellhuber uses a band saw in machine shop.

Realizing safety is important, Randy Clark uses glasses when working with a grinder.

Every Day!

The biggest change for many students this year was Physical Education. In order to comply with a state law, students were required to take PE every day rather than every other day. This situation created a few problems. Because classes were so large, there was not enough room for students to stand in line for roll. Therefore, teachers assigned places on the floor for students to sit while roll was being taken. Also due to large class size, many indoor activities could no longer be played in the gym. Teachers, however, solved this problem by offering new programs instead.

A new face could be seen during fourth and fifth hours. Mrs. Quagliano taught PE during this time while Mrs. Clary and Mrs. Anderson taught health class. Although Mrs. Quagliano was previously a gym teacher for Junior High level, she admitted that PE this year was a new experience. Although PE changed, students were still able to take advantage of the many different athletic activities this class provided.

Flag football was a favorite in the fall. Jo Barnard tries in vain to take Lori Hampton's flag.

Sitting in your spot while roll was being taken became a daily routine.

“Rules of the Road”

With Mr. Lazar paving the way, the sophomores were broken into the “Rules of the Road”. After a semester of Driver’s Education, students were ready to hit the road. The students drove whenever time allowed. Many students drove during school, and some drove before and after school. Mr. Lindbeck was also a driving instructor. Together they handled some 200 students throughout the year. Thanks to our competent and “nerves-of-steel” instructors, the sophomores of today became the drivers of tomorrow.

Taking care of some last minute details, Mr. Lazar ends another busy day in the Driver’s Ed. office.

Making a final check of the car before taking off, Mr. Lazar and his driving students prepare to hit the road.

Producers of Creativity

The Art Department under the supervision of Mrs. Ublauer was an essential part of Kewanee High School throughout the year. The students in this department painted signs, posters, play props and also printed programs for many school activities. In addition to performing services for the school, the art students had the opportunity to increase their knowledge of art by taking courses in beginning and advanced art classes.

Painting signs for Homecoming was a big task. Art students Rae Ann Tucker and Sheri Swanson paint in the hall during an art class.

Increasing her art ability, Lorie Mayberry paints with oils on canvas.

Four-year art student Lori Felten spends some of her class time drawing signs for the art department.

Getting Down to Business

Future accountants, business executives and secretaries found courses offered through the business department very helpful. Typing I and Shorthand I gave students an opportunity to learn the basics, while Typing II and Shorthand II were designed to help students sharpen their skills. Besides these classes, Accounting, a more challenging course, was offered. All in all, through the help of the many courses available in the business department, students were prepared to face the difficulties they might encounter in the business world.

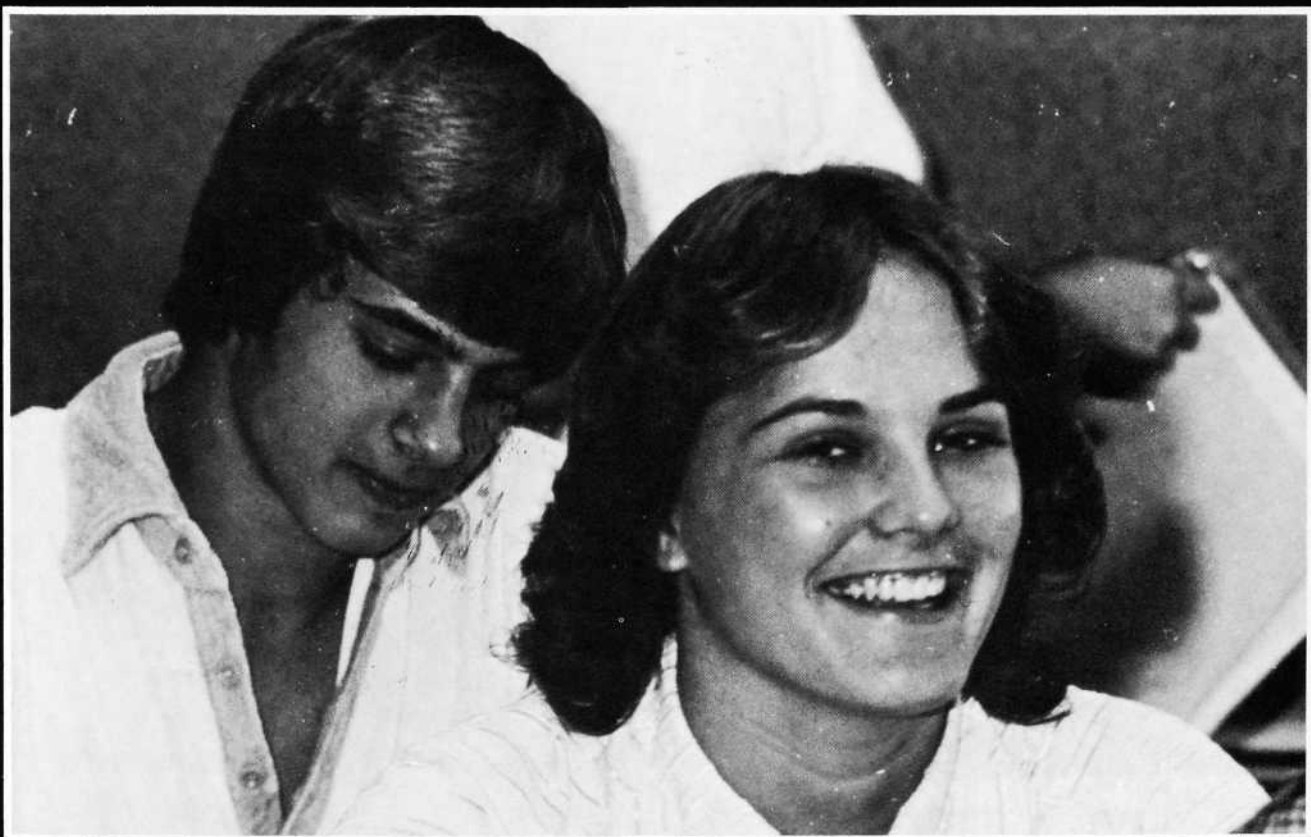

During Accounting class Tami Shinkevich helps Lena Eriksson with a problem.

Typing I gives students the opportunity to learn basic skills.

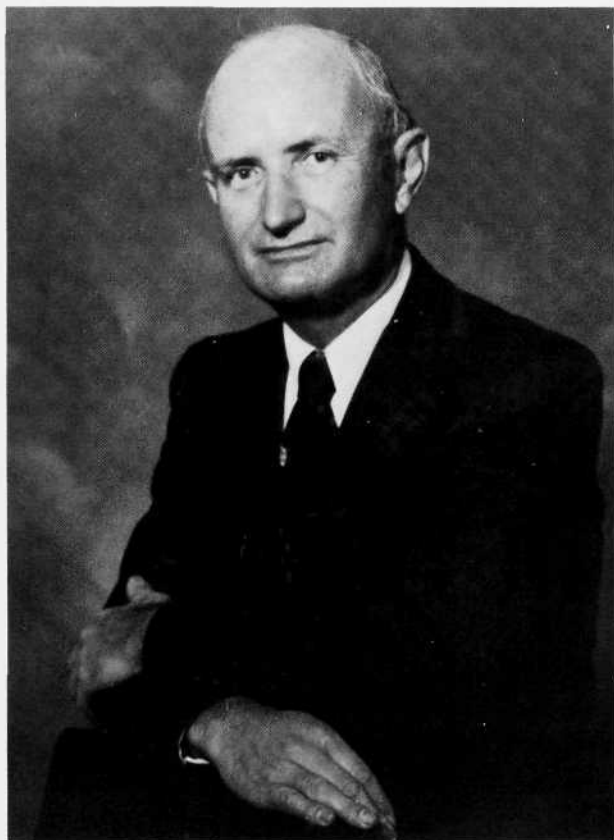

Faces

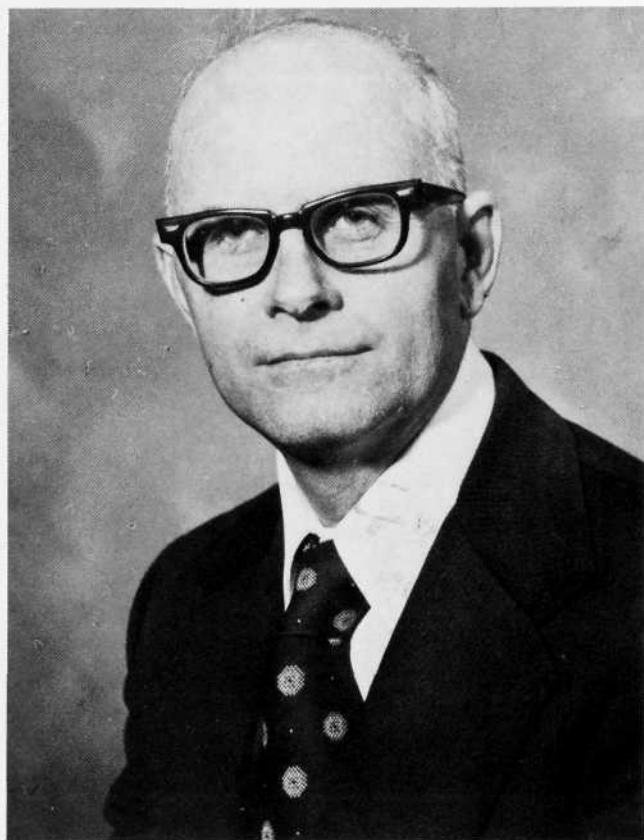

Keeping Our System Together

As Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Golby had a difficult job to perform. Aside from his daily work of keeping all the schools in compliance with state laws and safety regulations, Mr. Golby also met monthly with the Student Advisory Board to talk of school in general. Even though the job of Superintendent was often trying, Mr. Golby with the aid of the administrative secretaries and Mr. Sullens, the Assistant Superintendent, managed to do an excellent job of running and maintaining the Kewanee School System.

The Foundation of Our School

It was not an uncommon sight to see Mr. Damron, the principal at KHS, busy at work. Aside from his duties as principal, Mr. Damron served as Athletic Director. With the help of Miss Pletkovich, Dean of Staff and Students, Mr. Buchanan, Director and Treasurer of Extra-Curricular Activities and Mr. Lindbeck, the Associate Dean of Students, the administration at KHS was able to run the school smoothly and able to help the students with any problems that arose.

Behind the Scenes

Dependable is the best word to describe the 1980-81 cafeteria, transportation and janitorial services at Kewanee High School. These people did an excellent job preparing hot meals, transporting students to and from school and to various activities throughout the year and cleaning the school and making any necessary repairs. Although their jobs were not always easy, these people did their best to help KHS run smoothly. They truly were dependable.

Nobody Does It Better

Secretaries are definitely on the list of over-worked and undernoticed. Without Mrs. McKenna and Miss Hoose the main desk would undoubtedly be a wreck. None of the day to day business would ever get done. Mrs. Bral, who is responsible for accounting for everyone enrolled in school, would greatly be missed and without Mrs. Heise and Mrs. Lay the library would be in shambles. The work program and Ag office would not be the same without Mrs. Nuding and Mrs. Ublauer would absolutely be at a loss without the aid of her right-hand lady, Mrs. Brown in the Art Department. Mrs. Brokaw, aided by Mrs. Murphy, does just about everything else from date passes and booklets to her regular secretarial business. The secretaries are what keeps KHS running smoothly. These behind-the-scenes ladies should be commended on a job well done.

Senior History

As our senior year grows closer and closer to an end, we begin to look back and reminisce on our high school days. We remember walking into K.H.S. four years ago on our first day of school not knowing what to do or say. The classes, the people, organizations, dances,—everything was new and exciting to us. When our sophomore year rolled around, the newness of high school had worn off, but the thrill of ordering our class rings and getting our driver's licenses made our second year of high school just as exciting as the first. As sophomores we were accustomed to K.H.S. and proved our school spirit by becoming more involved in school activities and by winning the coveted spirit stick at most pep assemblies. Our enthusiasm carried on into our junior year. Being a junior meant being on the varsity teams, which made us a part of a record setting basketball team. As upperclassmen we also were able to present our Junior Class Play and host the Junior-Senior Prom for the departing Seniors. Though our first three years of high school were busy and exciting, our senior year is the one that we will remember the most. During this year we witnessed the death of a man who had helped our school tremendously, Mr. H. F. Brockman. We attended our last Homecoming and Midwinter Dances, performed our Senior Class Play, and this time it was our turn to say farewell at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Four years ago K.H.S. brought us together and labeled us the class that would graduate in 1981. Since then we have gained not only knowledge in our studies from the faculty and administration, but also the knowledge that will help us achieve our goals in life. The past four years have also left us with many memories; our dances, games, dates, and especially our many special friends who will never be forgotten. Although we are leaving K.H.S. and going our separate ways to pursue our individualized goals, we can always look back on our fond memories of K.H.S. Even though we may be separated from each other by miles we will always be united in one respect; we will always be the Class of 1981.

Juniors Climb the Ladder

The junior year is a tramatic year for most students. It is a time when students really begin to get involved in student government and begin to take leadership positions in organizations. The junior year is also a time when students begin to plan their futures and set goals for their lives after graduation.

Homecoming assemblies bring out the best in everyone, especially Jolene Poole.

During Career Day, these juniors ask questions that could affect their future.

Gazing into space, Terri Jennings daydreams during a class.

Getting Used to It All

Through driver's licenses, class rings and the "dreaded speech class," sophomores managed to survive it all. With one year of experience at K.H.S., the sophomore class was able to participate in many more activities which were not previously offered to them as freshmen. No longer accused of being "green", the sophomore class readily supplied spunk and spirit to K.H.S.

Showing class spirit, homeroom #6 prepares for the homecoming parade.

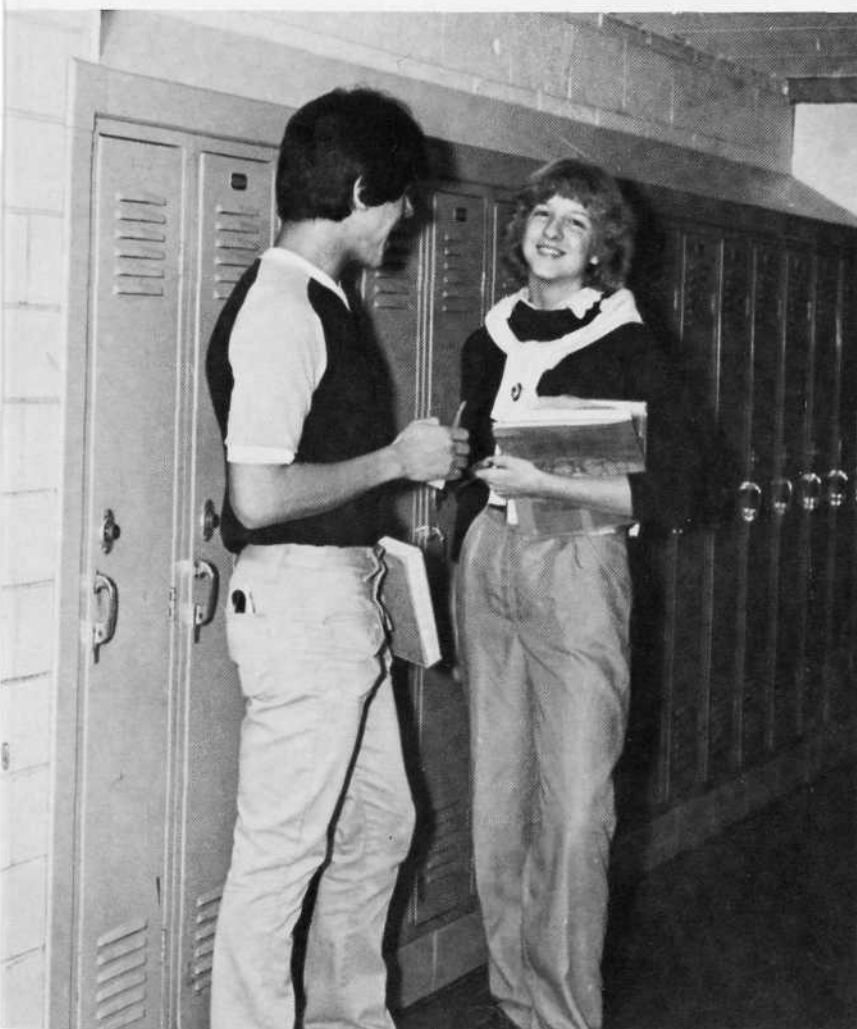

Sophomore officers: Jill Hankins, Secretary; Missy Welch, Vice-president; Kelleen Schiltz, Treasurer; Pat Sullivan, President.

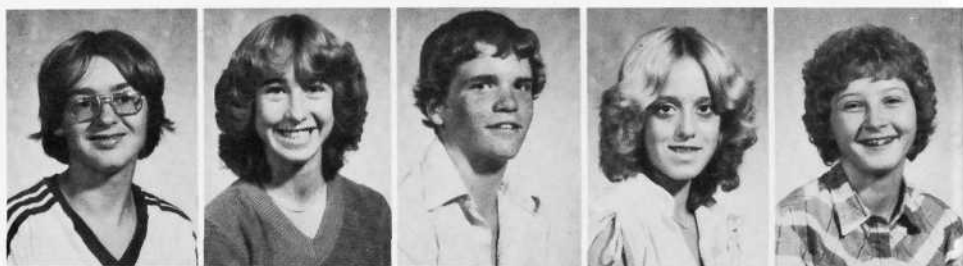

Indulging in a fine feast, Brian Lamb, takes time-out from biology class.

Sophomores Martin Urquiza and Michelle Larson make sure they meet between classes.

First Time for Everything

An entirely new experience greeted the freshman class, as these students acquainted themselves with detentions, blue slips, exams and the numerous offices in K.H.S. Although the freshmen were considered "bottom of the heap," many quickly became involved with many activities provided through the school. Although not all experiences may have been pleasant, the freshman class pulled through by facing the new challenge of K.H.S. head on.

Performing in the Homecoming skit is a new experience for these freshmen.

When time comes for planning a redecoration job in your home, don't forget to include Gustafson's in your plans. They have wallpaper for every room in your house, and a complete supply of paints for indoors and out. They also have a style of glass that will fill your every need. So when you think of remodeling, think of Gustafson's—the paint, wallpaper, and glass center.
